Compassion

Celebrating Refugee Week Across Lancashire
#CompassionateLancashire

lancashire.gov.uk

What is Refugee Week?

For Refugee Week's 25th anniversary, we invite you to celebrate what compassion looks like in action. Together we can create a shared and inclusive understanding of compassion that extends through our neighbourhoods, into all our towns and cities and right across our beautiful county of Lancashire.

“Our task must be to free ourselves – by widening our circles of compassion to embrace all living creatures and the whole of nature in its beauty. „

Albert Einstein

The last few years have been challenging for all of us. We are still adjusting to new realities post-lockdown as well as responding to new international crises; the evacuation of Kabul, the war in Ukraine, the earthquakes in Turkey and Syria. These events have made us more aware than ever of how interconnected our world is: how something seemingly “far away” impacts everyone, bringing home the need to widen our circles of compassion.

The theme of Refugee Week 2023, ‘Compassion’, is an invitation to listen and learn, to understand the experiences of refugees, and to create a culture of compassionate welcome.

Within our own experiences are all the tools we need to be compassionate, not just to ourselves and those in our immediate circle but to all our human neighbours and our one shared home, planet earth.

Join us over the 19th to 25th June 2023 at one of our Refugee Week events to find out how arts and culture can help widen our circles of compassion.

Help us to celebrate by using the hasth-tag #CompassionateLancashire on social media.

Lancashire Refugee Week Design Competition

Congratulations to the winner of our Refugee Week creative competition, Irena Kurnicka (age 15).

Irena's design reflects #CompassionateLancashire, and our open-hearted welcome to those who arrive in Lancashire in need of safety.

Place of Power: A Photographic Exhibition

PLACE OF POWER is a concept dreamt up by myself and a group of Ukrainian refugees who recently resettled in Lancashire. By photographing each person in a place that made them feel powerful again, and inviting them to write letters left completely up to their own interpretation, this is a project about people who've had control taken away from them reclaiming it once more.

UKRLAND

Lancaster Arts, in partnership with Lancashire County Council Refugee Integration Team, is privileged to welcome UKRLAND, a compelling one-woman theatre production created in response to the war in Ukraine, featuring eight documentary stories written by modern Ukrainian authors that share the real, very human experiences that so many are facing at the moment in Ukraine.

Directed by Yuri Radionov and performed by Shorena Shoniia, known for her work in film (No Step Back, Secret Love) and theatre (Juliet and Romeo, Lesya Ukrainka Theatre), who skilfully works with each story to reveal the full range of emotions of a woman in an inhuman war: a girl, sister, mother, friend, wife, neighbour, grandmother. Raped, mutilated, killed... but unconquered! These are stories of strong and loving women who will cross hundreds of roads and lead their children to their land – UKRLAND, where there will be no evil. And there will be a strong spirit, culture and love.

UKRLAND is a compelling theatre production created in response to the war in Ukraine and commissioned by the Lowry, Salford.

Their work showcases brand-new texts from members of the Ukrainian Playwrights Theatre that share the very real, human experiences that so many are facing at the moment in Ukraine.

There will also be the opportunity to view Wonder Wounded Land, a photo exhibition representing the impact of war on the landscape of Ukraine for one hour before the performance.

Wednesday 28th June 19:30 - Duration: 55 mins,

Age: 16+

~~Wonder~~ Wounded Land: Photographic Exhibition

Compassion is sometimes also about bearing witness; about refusing to look away no matter how much we are challenged. This exhibition will feature the works of Ukrainian photographers showcasing the beauty of Ukraine's urban and natural landscape before the war, alongside images of the devastation caused by the ongoing conflict. The images explore the line between the peaceful life that the Ukrainian people lived "before" and the ruins left behind by war. This powerful exhibition is not just about landscapes and houses, it is about human lives that have been destroyed. This piece will be open for viewing for one hour before the performance of UKRLAND and the On our Land: Ukrainian Film Festival.

Wednesday 28th June, 18:30 – 20:30

UKRLAND

We are very excited to be able to share this compelling one-women show with you. Commissioned by The Lowry, Salford, this powerful piece features eight documentary stories written by modern Ukrainian authors. Directed by Yurii Radionov and performed by Shorena Shoniia, UKRLAND is an honest conversation about the war in Ukraine. Shorena Shoniia, known for her work in film (No Step Back, Secret Love) and theatre (Juliet and Romeo, Lesya Ukrainka Theatre) shares with us what it means to be a woman, affected by war. This powerful and important performance urges us to look with compassion upon the girl, sister, mother, friend, wife, neighbour, grandmother whose lives have been so dramatically thrown into chaos. Yet even as victims of rape, violence and murder, these women are unconquered.

Antonia Beck, Senior Producer: Artist Development at The Lowry says: "UKRLAND is bold, visually stunning and urgent piece of political theatre created by Yurii Radionov and Shorena Shonia – two highly skilled theatre makers who fled their home city of Kyiv, Ukraine in June this year. "UKRLAND is an emotionally charged piece that not only offers audiences an insight into the horrific experiences that many are currently facing in Ukraine, but also champions freedom, liberty and hope."

Two languages are used in the performance – Ukrainian and English. Subtitles will be used. There will also be the opportunity to view Wonder Wounded Land, a photo exhibition representing the impact of war on the landscape of Ukraine for one hour before the performance.

Thursday 22nd June, 19:00

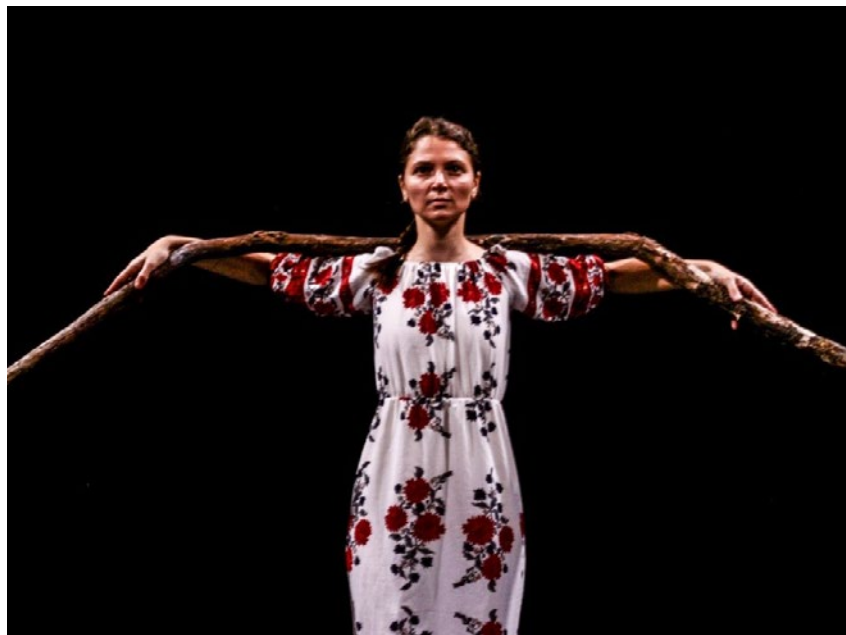

Duration: 55 mins

Age: 16+

Our Other Projects

A Taste of Home: Home Cooked Recipes from Syrian Refugees Living in UK

A Taste of Home was dreamed up and created by over 50 Syrian refugee families who have found sanctuary in Lancashire. Through community meals, cooking workshops and neighbourhood gatherings, the people in this book have tried to integrate into their new home, while honouring the land they left. The recipe book was shortlisted for a Guild of Food Writer's Award and has been mentioned by British Chef Nadiya Hussain as one of her recommended buys.

Buy the book here and enjoy A Taste of Home.

The Compassion Project

As well as being an opportunity to celebrate the diversity of our communities, Refugee Week is also a chance to raise awareness of the many challenges faced by people who have experienced forced migration. During Refugee Week, we are excited to be able to launch The Compassion Project; an educational workshop developed by members of Lancashire Refugee Integration Team, who have lived experience of forced migration. We will be delivering this workshop in schools across Lancashire during Refugee Week, but it is a project which will also run throughout the rest of the year. If you would like to book this workshop, free of charge, for your school or community group, please email RITTeam@lancashire.gov.uk with the subject line “The Compassion Project” and we will be in touch.

Our Re: Welcome App Launch

Arriving in a new city or town can be very daunting; it can take time to find your way around, to find the services you need to support you. Our new Re:Welcome App brings together all of the amazing support services for resettlers across Lancashire in one place, helping users to locate English classes, healthcare centres, advice drop-ins and more.

The app is available for free and can be downloaded from the App Store or Google Play using the QR code here:

Meet Lancashire Refugee Integration Team (LRIT)

Name: Ola Kre
Job: Business Support Officer,
Lancashire Refugee Integration Team
Home: Syria and now Rossendale

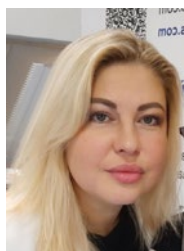

Many people talk about “who is Refugee?”. From my point of view, as a refugee who suffered and experienced difficulties in being herself, and achieving her dreams, a refugee is a human; a human who is homeless, dreamless, who has had a distance put between their family and themselves, who is far away from a hug.

Refugees are fleeing from a range of different situations such as conflict, human rights abuses, environmental disasters, or other crises. In Syria, where I am from, a war has led to the displacement of millions of people, caused widespread destruction of infrastructure and buildings, and resulted in the loss of hundreds of thousands of lives. I was forced to move from my country and try to adjust, starting everything from the beginning again, trying to build myself again. We are a young generation who grew up so fast, who left their dreams in a small box which has been locked with a key that the war took.

It was through the Syrian Resettlement Programme that I came to the UK. This scheme was a new road for my family and myself. This road gave us two options; being able to unlock the little box to make all our dreams come true but this comes at a price. The price is being away from our family again in a new country trying to adjust to everything new for the ten thousandth time. But if we chose to reject this pathway, we would lose this key and even the box, and will be living the rest of our days without thinking of tomorrow.

Now I have been in Lancashire for almost four years. I am studying at college and working in a job I love; helping other families as they arrive and start their journey down this new road.

Name: Yulia Yevushko

Job: Business Support Officer,
Lancashire Refugee Integration Team

Home: Ukraine but, for now, also Morecambe

My name is Yuliia Yevushko, and I come from Kyiv, Ukraine. I arrived in the UK as a refugee on the Homes for Ukraine Scheme in August 2022. Now I am working as a Business Support Officer in Lancashire County Council, and I am happy to be part of Lancashire Refugee Integration Team.

I am extremely grateful to the British People for opening their homes for Ukrainians and providing us not only with safe places to live but also for appreciating our skills and experience. Straight after my arrival I applied to many different companies hoping to get a job since I wanted to integrate to the system, be independent and contribute my energy and skills to the society. At one of the meetings of Ukrainian Hub in Lancaster I met Rebecca and Mary from LRIT, and we quickly realised that we were on the same wavelength.

I applied, and was successful at interview, to become part of the team which changed my life a lot and made it more meaningful. Every day I communicate with people who are sacrificing their private lives to support refugees and make their wellbeing comfortable. I am happy to be involved and I do my best to perform well and meet my mentors' expectations.

In Ukraine I worked as a managing director in the NHS and the skills I brought from this role, of working with vulnerable people, help me in my job now. Moreover, after fleeing the war I spent three months in the Czech Republic where I volunteered in the refugee Centre Mriya. This experience has changed my life priorities and goals completely. Now I understand that the most important things for people are peace and freedom. And the best way to heal yourself is to help other people in their struggle.

I am proud to be Ukrainian! Слава Україні! Great respect for the British people!

MORE INFORMATION

Whether you are a resettler yourself who has moved to Lancashire and are looking for support, or you simply want to find out more about refugee resettlement in the county, visit our website www.lancashire.gov.uk/resettlement-in-lancashire

For more information about Refugee Week and other events taking place nationally, please visit www.refugeeweek.org.uk.

Our 'Refugee Week in Lancashire' Programme is a yearly event which we very much look forward to. If you would like your events or activities to be included or advertised in next year's programme, please email RITTeam@lancashire.gov.uk.
